

Professional & Executive Services

Why Lloyd Morgan?

Lloyd Morgan specialises in the provision of professional and executive services across all sectors. Lloyd Morgan's unique executive centre provides our candidates and clients a state of the art career development resource.

Lloyd Morgan has the capability to understand the unique requirements of our client partners. Our extensive professional network, proprietary IP combined with our extensive experience and solution focus enables us to provide the capability to co-construct recruitment and HR solutions that lead to superior performance and effective Talent Management for our clients.

Consultants

Our experienced consultants understand the challenges that organisations often face in attracting, retaining and developing talented employment. Their experience is second-to-none and their success is driven by a number of key factors:

Our consultants generally have in excess of 7 years' recruitment experience and have worked extensively within their chosen industry. They foster excellent referral networks and have a genuine passion for what they do.

Candidates

In the current climate, most professional disciplines across industry are at record lows, with shortages hitting businesses hard. Because of this it is even more vital to apply a confidential, collaborative approach in assisting our candidates in furthering their careers. This is when the insight and expertise of our consultants is vital, as they are up to date with latest recruitment trends, salary expectations, inside information and general industry knowledge. Most of our consultants are members of industry associations relevant to their particular disciplines so meet regularly with the people that they recruit for, and receive latest media and industry news first hand.

Clients

Our clients are among the best known and well established, and have relied on our services for a number of years, often following a particular consultant. This relationship driven style has been built around our consultants' reputation and success in the market place, with the trust and confidentiality bestowed upon them paramount to their success. Dialogue is always open and honest, and advice is both received and given in equal measure, more often than not resulting in a timely and successful outcome.

If we can assist you or your business, we look forward to having a confidential discussion to take you to that next level.

Services Offered

Professional & Executive Administration recruitment services
Job and competency profiling
Executive Assessment – Psychometric and behavioural Executive mentoring, leadership coaching & development
Career mapping, development and management

Recruitment and staff audits
Culture surveys
Employment Branding

Role Types

Executive Assistants
Administration/Office Managers
Project Assistants/Managers

Quality Managers
Exec Sales Professionals and Leaders
Specialised HR Recruitment
Human Resource Managers
Human Resource Directors
Organisational Design and Development Professionals
Organisational Psychologists
Learning and development Professionals

